

How to learn more to exams

Contributed by Administrator
Saturday, 07 February 2009
Last Updated Saturday, 07 February 2009

In September, began a new school year. In the beginning there was even called. Luz previously acquired and repeat messages. But then began the hard work, much of science and exams. Some sufficient knowledge gained and lessons are learned at home. Such persons have no greater problems with learning. But there are also people that this is not enough and despite all the books on the seat bottom can not remember anything. But effective teaching methods are tried, which never fails.

1. First of all, share extensive material on the parts. First, a few times the first read of them, and when you are certain that you can have it go to the next, etc. Finally, ask an older person such as a sister to exam you.

2. If you are going to learn in the long exam share material for a couple of days for example, two subjects a day. Plan It's like you were able to learn so much. Read the designated amount of material each day, and then ask someone to check your knowledge.

3. If there were exam concepts related to the subject write them all on a large sheet of paper and explain their meaning. Then read it a few times.

4. There's also a way of words of a foreign language. Prepare a small card and write their words and their meaning. Then attach them in a visible place for you.

Do not mind the failure, because you can always be improved!